Queen Quality SHOES

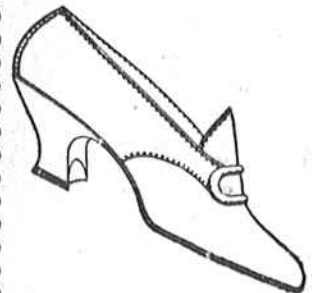

Exclusiveness of Style.

There is a certain touch of exclusiveness to Queen Quality shoes that sets them far and away above all others.

They have a "high-priced look" that gives the wearer distinction of dress.

You might pay a lot more for your shoes and still not get that aristocratic Queen Quality appearance.

REBELS PURSUE FEDERALS.

Villa's Men Now Occupy Torreon. Federalists Lost 1,500.

Juarez, Mexico, April 4.—It is estimated here that the rebels now have a force of 4,500 men in pursuit of the Federal garrison which fled from Torreon Thursday night.

Fighting between the two forces at San Pedro was reported yesterday and the day before, but nothing new on the subject was received to-day.

Opinion that Gen. Villa intends to take every advantage of the defeat of the Federalists at Torreon was expressed here to-day. It was based on intelligence officially announced last night that Villa had left suddenly for San Pedro to take charge of rebel troops reported to have participated in an encounter with the fleeing federalists.

Departure from Torreon prevented the promised telegraphic conference with Gen. Carranza.

Torreon Occupied by Villa.

Torreon, Mexico, April 3.—Villa's rebels to-day occupied Torreon, from which Gen. Refugio Velasco and most of the uninjured of his command fled yesterday. Immediately the work of burning bodies of the dead, clearing away the wreckage of shell-shattered adobe walls, street barricades and barbed wire entanglements was begun.

Velasco escaped from the Canyon de Huarache with a considerable proportion of his force. He was pursued last night by Gen. Hernandez, who to-day reported that he had fought a small rear guard engagement with the retreating force, and later Gen. Villa with reinforcements left here to make an attempt to capture or annihilate it.

Non-combatants here with whom the Associated Press correspondent talked to-day estimated Velasco's garrison did not number more than 5,000 men, of whom 1,500 were killed or wounded.

It is said here that Velasco's retreat was brought about by his losses in the rebels' night assaults and indications that his soldiers, worn-out by the prolonged fighting and fearful of the cruelties which they were told Villa practiced on the wounded prisoners, were on the verge of mutiny.

In house to house fighting rebels and Federalists frequently came within talking distance of each other, and in some instances got on such friendly terms that they ceased firing entirely. In most of these cases the Federalists were persuaded to remain when Velasco retreated and then be enrolled under the rebel banner.

At least a fortnight, and probably a longer period, will be required to reorganize the army before the expected campaign against Saltillo and Monterey can be made.

GOVERNOR TO OPEN CAMPAIGN

At Walterboro on 11th—Talk Politics and Launch Campaign.

Columbia, April 6.—Governor Blease will go to Walterboro next Saturday to address the people of Colleton county. The Governor was invited and accepted the invitation. He is expected to talk on politics, and in some quarters it is looked on as the time and the place where Governor Blease will formally open his campaign for the United States Senate against Senator E. D. Smith.

It is said that there is a possibility that some of the candidates for Governor and other State offices may also be present at Walterboro on Saturday. It was rumored here to-day that speeches might also be made there by Mayor Grace, of Charleston, and Col. J. G. Padgett, of Walterboro, both of whom are looked on as prospective candidates for Congress from the First District. The meeting will be a rally of the Blease forces in Colleton and adjoining counties, and it is thought that a great gathering will likely be present.

SENECA IS PROUD OF AUSTIN.

Takes Second in Contest—Suggestion for "Clean-Up Day."

Seneca, April 7.—Special: At a meeting of the Aid Society of the Presbyterian church Monday afternoon, Mrs. T. S. Stribling was elected president and Mrs. George Shelor re-elected secretary and treasurer. The meeting was held with Mrs. T. L. Stribling.

The first meeting of the Christian Endeavor Society was held at the Presbyterian church last Sunday evening at 7 o'clock, with George Shelor as leader. Wilkes Dendy will lead the next meeting.

Gardeners are making good use of the first chance in some weeks to stir the ground. Gardens in Seneca are very much later than usual.

At a meeting of the City Council last week O. F. Bacon was elected clerk and treasurer.

The county track meet will be held in Seneca next Saturday. While the boys here will not put up much of a fight this year in track work, still Seneca will not be slow to welcome the track teams throughout the county. "The big day" is always anticipated with pleasure by our people.

I again congratulate the high school and their representative, Willie Austin, upon his having won second place in the inter-county oratorical contest at Greenville. The school here was well represented, and it was the concurrence of opinion that second place, with so formidable a list of speakers, was indeed an honor for OCONEE COUNTY'S 1914 PENSION ROLL.

List of Those Whose Names Remain on Roll, and Those Dropped—Total Amount for Oconees 245 Pensioners, $7,464.00.

Clerk of Court John F. Craig has received the Oconee county pension fund for 1914, and the same is now ready for disbursement to the pensioners of the county. Mr. Craig requests that all who are to receive amounts from this fund apply for it in person, or send written and signed orders for same. No amounts will be paid to any person simply calling for the same unless that person is the one to whom the pension belongs, or if he brings with him a proper order for the amount. This rule is imperative.

The pension fund for Oconee amounts this year to $6,464, and the amount is distributed among 245 old soldiers and their widows. The list is given in full below:

our school. Remember my prophecy of last week: "The boy who heats Willie Austin will get the cup." Seneca was well represented at the Clemson-Brinkley base ball game last Saturday at Clemson.

Piedmont Presbytery meets to-day with the First church at Anderson. W. R. Davis will represent the Seneca Presbyterian church.

The Once-a-Week Club will meet this week with Mrs. George Shelor. This being the season when the house-keeper is up against the dread "spring cleaning," I am tempted to suggest to our new city officials that a clean-up day be set apart for our town. I do not believe anything could give a more effectual uplift to our town just now than a proclamation from our mayor, setting apart a day for cleaning up premises, both private and public. I hope the new mayor will credit this suggestion to real interest and not to a spirit of meddling. This is a measure in which everybody can co-operate, and in which there lies not only the health and welfare of our people, but of the looks of the town as well.

YOUNG LADIES DROWN IN POND.

Sisters Meet Tragic End—Their Brother Miraculously Escapes.

Lexington, April 4.—Misses Jessie and Flossie Crout, aged 20 and 16 years, respectively, lost their lives in Taylor's mill pond, about 15 miles south of Lexington, at 2 o'clock this afternoon when the mule they were driving made a wild dash into the pond while they were crossing the dam. Elzie Crout, a brother of the young ladies, aged about 12 or 13, who was in the buggy at the time of the accident, barely escaped with his life, he having managed to get to the bank. His escape is said to have been almost miraculous.

The accident happened almost within sight of the home of the young women, as they were returning from Swansea, where they went yesterday to visit relatives. There were no witnesses to the accident. The home of Azarius Taylor is almost within a stone's throw of the pond where the young women were drowned. Mrs. Taylor and her little daughter, the only members of the family at home at the time, were attracted by the girls' screams. They were unable to lend assistance and the lad, too young to aid his sisters, struggled in the water in an effort to save his own life. The mule swam to the opposite shore after he had managed to get loose from the buggy.

It was possibly half an hour before the men near by reached the scene and it was an hour before the bodies of the young women were recovered. The older girl, Miss Jessie Crout, was still in the buggy in a sitting posture. Miss Flossie Crout was rescued from beneath the buggy. The water where the young women lost their lives was about eight feet deep. Elzie, the little boy, says that he saw his sisters rise two or three times, but he was unable to give them aid.

The accident has shocked the entire community as nothing has shocked the people in years. The young women were popular in the community and their sudden and untimely end is a great shock to their family and friends. They were daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Crout, one of the oldest and most highly esteemed families of the Pond Branch section. Besides their parents the young ladies are survived by several brothers and sisters.

DOESN'T HOLD FRANK INNOCENT

Burns, However, Says His Investigation Will Justify New Trial.

Atlanta, April 4.—The report of William J. Burns, the detective, who has been investigating the murder here last April of Mary Phagan, a factory employee, for which crime Leo M. Frank, of the factory where the girl worked, is sentenced to be hanged April 17, will not be made public before Tuesday or Wednesday of next week. Friends of Frank who employed Burns hope, through the detective's efforts, to save the life of the condemned man.

Announcement that he would not disclose the results of his investigation was made here to-night by Burns, who reached this city to-day from Chicago. The detective said he had not submitted his report to Frank's lawyers and denied that he had stated that Frank was not guilty. "I will say positively," he added, "that I believe Frank entitled to a new trial." Burns would not say upon what he based this conviction, and refused positively to indicate, even in a general way, the nature of his discoveries as developed by his investigation. He reiterated his assertion that "there was no mystery as to the identity of Mary Phagan's murderer," who, according to Burns, "left a plain trail."
